PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, JANUARY 14, 1889.

Fight a Duel in Paris.

Lissagary May Die.

PRICE ONE CENT.

ALL THE LATEST NEWS

He Declares that He Can't Have Fair Treatment Here.

It's All Because He Was Born in England, He Says.

Bis Statement Seasoned with a Back-Slap at Dempsey.

Jake Kilrain called at Richard K. Fox's office this morning, and when he had been chatting with the proprietors short time a telegram from ston was handed him, bringing the news that his aged mother was dying in that city.

The blow was a severe one to Kilrain. He im-ediately answered the telegram, stating that he would go to Boston to-morrow, and then hurried off to catch the train for Baltimore, to get his wife and take her to Boston with him.

There were no new developments in the Kilrain-Sullivan match to-day. No efforts have peen made to have the final stakeholder agreed upon at once, because of the statements claimed to have been made by Sullivan's friends, to the effect that they would consent to no changes in the agreement. Charley Mitchell expects to leave for England Wednesday, on the Britannic. He came out strong to-day against Sullivan and Jack Dempsey, claiming as his ground for doing so that he has been driven to it. He says he is confident now that he would not doing so that he has been driven to it.

He says he is confident now that he would not have an sound show with Jack Dempasy in a finish fight. He believes he can do Jack up, even if his hands are bad, but declares that the sporting element that has been working to down him in this country, using foul means to do so, would not let him defeat Dempsey. He says:

'If I knocked Dempsey down by a blow on the jaw, they would declare I fonled him, and that is the way it would be all through a fight. I accepted Dempsey's propositions that he made to me a while ago, and he then backed down on them.

'My position is just this: I don't care about having a prize-fight with any one. I have buncked out my hands and do not look upon fighting as the height of my ambition, by any means. However, there will come a time of reckoning between Jack Dempsey and several others and myself some day, and I will be there, as sure as you are living.

'Our business has been hurt by an element which I do not think represents the sporting people of this country, but what is the rift-raff of sports, and all because I was born in England instead of America.

'What American is there that has not been treated with courtesy in England. Look at John I. Sullivan, for instance. He was treated royally and was entertained by gentlemen of title. Not that their title made them gentlemen, but I simply mention that to show that the men had standing.

'Now, mind, you, I do not say, anything

"Now, mind you, I do not say anything gainst people here, the people who occupy positions of standing, for by them I have been reated with respect, because they are gentle-

"Who but a loafer and a coward would throw an egg at two men sparring on a stage for no reason whatever?"

"I am coming back here to live, and all I will ask is for the sporting men of standing and the American press to give me a fair show. I have been misquoted, and so has Kilrain; but it is not our fault. I will thank The Evening World if it will publish my statement."

Mitchell denied the story that Jack Dempsey slapped his face in Chicago, and accused the dapped his face in Chicago, and ac Nonparell of running away from him.

The Election at Albany, ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 14. - New York's thirtyix electoral votes were cast for Benjamin Harrison at noon to-day. A preliminary caucus of the College was held this morning at 10 of the College was held this morning at 10 o'clock in the Delevan House to arrange for the speedy transaction of whatever business might come before it while in session.

John F. Winslow, of Poughkeepsie, presided, but beyond the nomination of officers nothing was done.

Secretary of State Cook called the regular session to order in the Senate at 12 o'clock, and at once attended to the swearing in of the members.

Then, on motion of James S. T. Stranahan, of Brocklyn, William H. Seward was elected President.

Brooklyn, William H. Seward was elected President.
Lispenard Stewart and Frank S. Witherbee were chosen Secretaries and Messrs. Stranahan and Korter were selected as messengers.
A committee consisting of George N. Crouse, Angustus Frank and Henry Hebing was appointed by the President to act as tellers in the voting. The balloting was soon over with, and the thirty-six votes of the Empire State were declared to be cast for Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana, and Levi P. Morton, of New York, for President and Vice-President of the United States.

To-night the Fort Orange Club will give a reception to the electors.

beption to the electors.

James W. Birkett, of Brooklyn, is seriously ll., and in coming to Albany to cast his vote has endangered his life.

SECEDING MEDICAL STUDENTS.

The Weisse Partisans Present Their Resignations to the University Faculty. L. S. Rosenstill, on behalf of himself and ninety-one other students who nutil recently sttended the University of the Medical College of New York, presented a paper to the Faculty this morning formally notifying them of their withdrawal from the University.

This is the secession of dental students threatened and now carried out, because Prof. Weisse, a favorite among the students, was not given the chair of anatony in the University when it was vacated recently.

A. J. Walsh, who left the college when Prof. Weisse resined, refused to disclose his secret way for preserving bodies, and the Faculty is now obliged to supply fresh bodies for dissection as other colleges have to.

Mr. Walsh, by his secret process, preserved the bodies of Grant, Garfield and other eminent men for a long time after their death. lege of New York, presented a paper to the

For Ladies Only.

Ladies—why is it, that when your husband or your children are ill, you consult the best physician at once, care for them day and night weary yourself out with sleepless watching, and never begradge the heaviest doctor's bill, if only the dear ones are restored to health; while day after day, week after week, you endure that dull pain in your back—that terrible "dragging-down semsation—and do absolutely nothing to effect a cure? In a few years you will be a helpless invalid, and soon your broken-hearted husband and motherless children will follow von to the grave. Perhaps delicacy prevents you consulting a physician—but even this is not necessary. Foor sufferer, tell your husband bow miserably you feel—perhaps you never did—and ask him to stop to-night and get you a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Payonitry Parscanprion. It has cured thousands of women suffering from weaknesses and complaints peculiar to your sex. "."

Horrible Agony.

Aboard the City of Berlin.

H. D. Blunden Dies of Delirium Tremens on the Same Boat.

Copyright, 1889, by The Press Publishing Company (New York World). [SPECIAL CABLE DESPATCH TO THE WORLD.]

LONDON, Jan. 14.-Maggie Gale, a prepos sessing young lady of Albany, sailed from New York on the City of Berlin a week ago When the vessel was but one day out at sea she took a dose of rat poison.

She was immediately thrown into convulsions and after a few hours of horrible agony expired.

She confessed that she ran away from home on account of a family quarrel, but steadfastly refused to disclose its nature or give any particulars.

She stated that she took passage on the City of Berlin with the deliberate intention of committing suicide. Miss Gale was twenty years of age and well dressed. Shortly after this tragedy those aboard were startled by the ravings of another saloon passenger, who proved to be H. D. Blunden, of New York.

He had become insane from delirium tremens and died within a few hours.

On the third day out there was a double funeral, and both bodies were buried at sea.

At the Inman Line offices, No. 6 Bowling Green, it was stated that Miss Maggie Gale was registered from Albany, N. Y. D. H. Blunden gave his residence as Athens Ba

Miss Gale Not Known in Albany.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ALMANY, N. Y. Jan. 14.—No person by th ame of Maggie Gale is known in Albany. There are several families of that name here, but There are several families of that name here, but all disclaim any knowledge of the suicide.

The wife of a Dr. Gale, who resided in Albany a year ago, is thought to have been named Maggie, but no trace of her can be found.

Persons acquainted with the couple are confident, however, that there were no domestic difficulties, and that from here the family moved to Cleveland or some city in the West.

MOST IS UNTERRIFIED.

He Says He is Not Afraid of Anything the Anarchista May Do.

A sojourn of a few months on Blackwell's Island and an overhanging sentence to another term at that resort seem to have had the effect of quieting the flery anarchism of the effect of quieting the fiery anarchism of Herr Johann Most, editor of Freikeit.

His editorial utterances are not so sanguinary as formerly, and his former friends and followers in the blood-red brotherhood of man have put this and the fact that the valiant Most crawled under his mistress's bed at the approach of the minions of the law two years ago together and have decided among themselves that the fire-eating little man is a coward.

The have said so in a circular of denunciation recently issued by and to the faithful disciples of disorder.

To an Evening World reporter Herr Most says, regarding the opisode:

To an Evening World reporter Herr Most says, regarding the episode:

"These people are a few cranks whom we bounced from the International Working People's Association because they were obstructionists. What they say isn't worth noticing."

noticing."

"The circular says you are a greedy, self-seeking schemer, an incorrigible liar and scoundrel, defaming everybody who refuses to bow down before you, and it is hinted that there is a plot afoot to murder you," said the reporter.

Oh, they were to assassinate me in November," replied Most with a distortion which was probably intended for a smile.

I have answered in my paper in two lines.
I am not afraid.

'I am not afraid.'
'I shall not answer further. My chief assailant, Franz Penkert, is in Europe. He has never been in America. See I have friends!" and Herr Most displayed a letter renewing a subscription to his paper and containing $2 in capitalistic greenbacks.

MRS. HOLESWORTH LOCKED UP.

Accused by Her Friend of Stenling a Costly Diamond Earring.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holesworth, of 134 West Fortieth street, an elegantly dressed woman, wearing diamond earrings and diamond breastpin, and carrying a gold watch at tached to an opera chain of the same material, was arraigned before Justice Patterson at Jefferson Market Police Court, to-day, on a charge of stealing a single diamond earring, valued at $450, from Mrs. Emma Huber, of 131 West Twenty-ninth street. Mrs. Huber is well-to-do, living upon an

Mrs. Huber testified that on Wednesday Mrs. Holeworth and her daughter called to see her.

While Mrs. Huber and the young girl were examining a pattern book and stood with their backs turned to a bureau on which stood Mrs. Huber's jewel case, Mrs. Holesworth approached the bureau, saying she worth approached the bureau, saying she wanted to examine a picture.

Afterwards Mrs. Holesworth retired to another room, but, soon returning, told her daughter it was time to take their departure. They left, and soon after Mrs. Hubert missed the earring, and reported the case at Police Headquarters.

Detective-Sergt. Murray was put on the case, and found that Mrs. Holesworth had left the city for Baltimore.

He learned that she would return yesterday, and as she stepped off the cars in Jersey City he arrested her.

On being taken into custody she expressed great indignation. She said that she herself had had charge of Mrs. Huber's diamonds under lock and key for four months and it was not likely the would steal them.

Justice Patterson held her for examination.

Justice Patterson held her for examination.

The contracts for building the new Twentyecond Regiment Armory, on the Boulevard, between Sixty-seventh and Sixty-eighth streets, were awarded by the Armory Board this afternoon as follows: Masonry, to James D. Murphy, $112,980; carpenter work. P. B. Lantry, $72,750; steam heating and ventilation and plumbing. Christopher Nally, $22,240; iron work, Wallis Iron Works, $59,000; total cost, $266,070.

Meeting at the Everett.

Ex-Appraiser McMullen.

Merchants Were Present,

Secretary Fairchild's private parlor at the Everett House was the scene of an important conference this morning, in which a number of prominent merchants of the city, together with the Secretary of the Treasury, Collector Magone and Appraiser Stearns participated.

The conference had been called for the purpose of discussing the appointment of a successor to Mr. McMullen, the recently removed Appraiser, and the object of the Secretary's visit to New York was to receive suggestions on this point, and also to take steps for the thorough overhauling of the Appraiser's office, in the administration of which, it has been charged, there have been many irregularities, if not actual corruption and rascality. The firms represented at the conference this morning included E. S. Jaffray & Co., E. & H. Van Ingen, James McCreery & Co., Arnold, Constable & Co., E. J. Denning & Co., W. & J. Sloan, all of whom are drygoods and carpet men; A. R. Whitney & Co., iron, and a Mr. Butler, who represented the goods and carpet men; A. R. Whithey & Co., iron, and a Mr. Butler, who represented the sugar interests.

These gentlemen assembled at Secretary Whitney's room about 9 o'clock this morning and the discussion continued until noon, when the merchants went away, leaving the Secretary in private consultation with the Collector and Appra ser.

In regard to the conference, Secretary Fairchild said to an Eventua World reporter:

'So far as the result of the conference this morning is concerned, I can only say that we have not come to any conclusion.

'I called these merchants together to get their suggestions in regard to a successor to the late Appraiser, but they could not think at the moment of any one who was suitable. I shall hear from them, however, after I get back to Washington, and will consider their wishes in making any permanent appointment."

"Will Mr. Stearns be in charge mean.

ment."
"Will Mr. Stearns be in charge mean-

ment."

"Will Mr. Stearns be in charge meanwhile?"

"Yes. The investigation of the affairs of the Appraiser's office here will be entirely in his charge and will be conducted privately with the assistance of Special Treasury Agent Tichenor."

"Have any recommendations for removals been made yet?"

"Not a single one, and all reports to that effect are unfounded. When Mr. Stearns has made sufficient progress in his investigations to show any irregularities it will be time enough to talk of removals or chauges."

"Will any charges be preferred against Mr. Mullen?"

"None whatever. I have nothing further to say in regard to his removal than appeared in my final letter to him, which has been published. That correspondence ended the matter."

"How about the report that Col. Jewett.

Chief of the Treasury agents, will come on to superintend the investigation of the Ap-praiser's office?" praiser's office?"
"There is no truth in it watever. He will probably be in New York to-day, but it is on business connected with other matters."
Secretary Fairchild said that private as well

How about the report that Col. Jewett, as public business had brought him to New York, and that he expected after attending to some private matter downtown this after-noon to go back to Washington this evening. He said that he did not intend to evening. He said that he did not intend to have the conference composed entirely of dry-goods importers, and it was only by chance that this had occurred. At the Appraiser's office this morning there was no end of excitement among the clerks in the various departments, stirred up appar-ently by the reports of what Secretary Fair-child expected to do during his visit in this city.

child expected to do during his visit in this city.

All sorts of rumors were flying about, and the general opinion seemed to be that a wholesale slaughter of the innocents was going to take place before night.

Every one was demoralized, and the non-appearance of the Appraiser himself added to the feeling of uncertainty and anxiety.

At the Custom-House it was learned that Secretary Fairchild will make no appointment of a successor to Maurice J. Holahan, Chief of the New York Treasury agents, for the present.

he present. LEADER HART MAY GO, TOO.

Prospects for Another Row Among the Twenty-Second District Counties.

Ald. Redmond J. Barry's expulsion from the ranks of the County Democracy of the Twenty-second Assembly District has not furnished the only excitement in that organi-There is a strong fight being made to oust

There is a strong fight being made to onst Henry C. Hart from the leadership.
His opponent is James McCabe, Chief Clerk in the District Attorney's office.
McCabe is Boss Power's right-hand man, and would make a leader in whom the Boss could place every dependence. It is rumored that he is not so sure of Hart, who has been credited with saying that he would desert and join Tammany Hall if he didn't receive a certain appointment in the Finance Department.
Power is said to be backing McCabe, and a lively rumpus is expected on the occasion of the organization of the District Committee Thursday night.
Alderman Barry says there is a prospect of allying himself with the Tammany Hall organization.

THIS IS ELECTORS' DAY. Good Outlook for the Success of Hur-rison and Morton. This is the day appointed for the meeting of the members of the Electoral College chosen at the election in November. These gentlemen, electors as they are called, meet, each Board in its own State, and cast their ballots for President and Vice-Prescast their ballots for President and Vice-President of the United States.

The results in the several States will be sent in sealed envelopes to the President of the Senate, at Washington, and will be opened by him in the presence of both the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The result of all the returns thus received and opened will determine the election. Although the electors are bound only in honor to vote for certain candidates, it is rumored that the result will be the election of an Indiana gentleman named Benj, Harrison as President and a New Yorker named Levi P. Morton as Vice-President. The election does not seem to occasion much popular excitement.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.] Paris, Jan. 14 .- A desperate duel with words was fought here to-day.

The contestants were both editors, M. Henri Rochefort, of L'Intransigeant, and M. Lisagary, of La Bataille. Both men were wounded, and it is said that Lissagary's injury may prove fatal.

The report of the duel created great excitement in this city, and this was increased at first by the rumor that both men had been Rochefort and his adversary are not less expert with the sword than with the pen, and their encounter, while not long in duration, was a most interesting exhibition for their

WITH VIM AND A CIGARETTE.

JAMES G. BLAINE, JR., BEGINS WORK AS A MACHINIST'S APPRENTICE.

There was a Mild Sensation in Waterville, Me., This Morning When Jimmy Entered the Maine Central Repair Shops-Railroad Employees Say "Jimmy Won't Last Long"—All of Them Like Him.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] WATERVILLE, Me., Jan. 14.-James G. Blaine, jr., to-day began his new career as an apprentice in the repair shops of the Maine Central Railroad.

He had arrived in town yesterday on the paper train, and immediately took up his res-paper train, and immediately took up his resdence at the Elmwood Hotel, where he spent all day Sunday smoking cigarettes and holding conversation with occasional callers.

This morning he was up at dawn of day, and was on his way to the scene of his future work. At 7.30 he began work.

Master Mechanic Pillsbury in conversation with The Evening World reporter said that young Blaine came to him for the job full of determination to make it a success if he possibly could. He also said that Blaine, jr., insisted upon beginning as an apprentice and working up. His object is to obtain as good an idea as he can of the power of locomotion in a practical workshop.

Blaine rigged out in a pair of overalls and a frock and, puffing a cigarette, was first placed in charge of John Ellis, master of the locomotion department, where he is being instructed in the various technicalities of the department.

structed in the various technicalities of the department.

At first it will naturally go a little hard with him and he will probably not work his full eight hours. He began work a little awkward. His handling of the tools was not, of course, as easy as it might be, but he showed a determination to master the work. The salary attached to Blaine's employment is not very remunerative, but will increase with time. The employees of the railroad company look upon young Blaine's arrival in their midst with considerable merriment and frequently assert that they will "take the grease out of him," and that "Jimmy won't last long." But they all seem to enjoy it, and no doubt they will endeavor to make his stay, however short it endeavor to make his stay, how may be, a most pleasant one.

The advent of this well-known personage as an apprentice in the shop here is the talk of the city, and as he walks along in the street he is met by a long line of staring

TO PREVENT REPEATING.

Mr. Conkling's Clever Plan to Register the Voters' Signatures.

Aldermon Alfred R. Conkling has worked out an amendment to section 1858 of the Consalidation Act. The object of the amendment is to secure honesty at the polls during the elections by some new provisions, which may catch the wily repeater who places a mercantile value on his vote and wishes to make it as numerous as possible.

The Inspectors of Election must appoint

The Inspectors of Election must appoint one of their number to act as Chairman, and if this is not accomplished in fifteen minutes after assembling, the Chairman must be selected by lot.

An examination of the applicant for registration must then be made. When it comes to the address of the applicant the amendment reads that "each applicant shall write his own name in full in the Election bureau copy of the registers (this provision, however, shall not apply when an applicant shall swear that he is unable to write his name)."

This amendment is a praiseworthy attempt to secure honesty at the polls for would-be repeaters. When he is suspected of an attempt to vote again he can be compelled to write his name, and a comparison of this writing with that in the register is supposed to furnish a clue to the repeater's detection.

The bill will be offered in the Senate by Senator Van Cott.

SORROW OVER CAPT. TOAL.

The Coroners Pass Resolutions and Order the Office Closed To-Morrow.

The Board of Coroners met to-day, with Coroner Levy in the chair, to take action on the death of Chief Clerk John S. Toal.
Coroner Levy was appointed to draw up suitable resolutions expressing sympathy with the family of Capt, Toal, and the high appreciation which the Coroners held of him for the conscientious and able manner in which he discharged his duties. The resolutions will be engressed and presented to the tions will be engrossed and presented to the

The Coroners will attend the funeral in a body from 167 Henry street, at 9 A. M. to-morrow, and the office will be closed during

The Kuiser Opens the Prussian Diet.

(BY CABLE TO THE PARSS NEWS ASSOCIATION.)
BEBLIN, Jan. 14.—The Experor opened the ssion of the Prussian Diet to-day, delivering in person the speech from the Throne. He said in person the speech from the Infone. It said his relations were friendly with foreign powers. His visits abroad had afforded him evidence that the powers were in favor of peace. The economic situation had improved. Further measures would be introduced to promote the interests of industry and of workingmen. The finances were in a satisfactory condition.

SUICIDE AT SEA. IN CONFERENCE. FROM PEN TO SWORD. COLLIDED, HEAD ON PETER COFFEE DEAD

Maggie Gale, of Albany, Dies in Secretary Fairchild Calls a Secret Editors Rochefort and Lissagary Horrible Railroad Accident in Ohio He Wanted to Confess to the This Morning.

She Took a Dose of Rat Poison Was It to Select a Successor to Both Men Were Wounded and M. Eight Persons Killed and Six Closing Chapter in One of "The Injured .-- Some Fatally.

> A Number of Well-Known New York The City Greatly Excited Over the Caused by a Flagman, Who Made a Desperate Encounter. Mistake in Signals,

> > (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) AKRON, O., Jan. 14.—The fast east-bound assenger train on the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railroad collided with a freight between Kent and Tallmadge early this morn-

Present advices state that eight persons were killed and six injured. The freight train had broken in two and was picking up the parted section when the passenger train dashed into it head on. Among those killed are: Engineer Richard Huntington, of Galion. Fireman William Walters, of Galion.

Zeph Bashford, baggage master, William Landy, express messenger. Mary Lyon, six years old, of Cherry Tree.

And three Chinamen, who were travelling in the smoking-car.

The names of the injured are not yet known. Physicians have gone on a special train from this city to the scene of the wreck.

The flagman who was sent back to signal the passenger train thought he heard his engineer sound a return signal, and failed to perform his duty.

HIS SECOND TRIAL FOR LIFE.

John Greenwall Again at the Bar for the Murder of Lyman S. Wecks.

The long-awaited arraignment of John Greenwall, the convicted murderer of Lyman S. Weeks, who was granted a new trial by the higher Court, took place to-day in the Kings County Court of Sessions.

The court-room was terribly crowded. District Attorney Ridgway conducted the case for the prosecution in person, and Lawyer Charles F. Kingsley defended Greenwall.

The young prisoner sat with his face averted from the spectators and his back against one of the iron columns. He was pale and stolidly indifferent to the curiosity he excited. It was on the night of March 15, 1887, that the murder was committed. Mr. Weeks, who resided with his wife at 1071 De Kalb avenue, was awakened hastily dressing himself burried downstairs. his wife arose and stood at the head of the stairs importuning him to be careful.

What transpired in the basement is known but imperfectly. Mrs. Weeks heard a pistol shot and a body fall. She rushed to a window in the front of her house and raising it called for help.

As she stood at the open window she saw a from sleep by a noise in the basement and man come out of the basement and run down the street. When she went into the base-ment she found the dead body of Mr. Weeks. The room was in a state of confusion indicating that a striggle had taken place.

For weeks the detectives of both cities worked on the case, They learned from a conductor named Dickson on the Broadway surface road in Brooklyn that on the night of the murder two suspicious-looking men had ridden on his car to the Twenty-third Street

Ferry. om his description they arrested Greenwall and Milier. Later they arrested John

Krause,
Krause turned State's evidence, and it was on his and Dickson's evidence that Green-wall was found guilty and sentenced to hang on July 15, 1888. Miller, who was jointly indicted with Greenwall, has never been placed on tr al.

An appeal was made from the conviction and a new trial granted.

The work of obtaining a jury, which began at 11.15, is expected to last the whole of to-

WOUNDED BY HIS PLAYMATE. Little Johnnie Smith Brought Home with

Concussion of the Brain. Capt. O'Connor, of the East Eighty-eighth street station, was to-day notified that tenrear-old John Smith was lying dangerously ill at his home, 1536 Second avenue, under circumstances calling for police action.

Little Johnnie was brought home Saturday night and complained of feeling strange in his head. He was put to bed and yesterday morning the doctor was called in. He said the boy was suffering from concussion of the brain, brought on by a violent blow on the skull.

Then the little boy said that a playmate named Edward Braol, aged twelve years, who also lives at 1536 Second avenue, had hit him on the head with a thick stick. It is feared he cannot recover.

Since the assault young Braol has disappeared and Capt. O'Connor's men are looking

TO FIRE A CIVIL-SERVICE BOMB.

Assemblyman Endies Wants the Question Submitted to a Popular Vote. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, | BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 14. - Matt Endies, Assemblyman for the Second District of Eric County, expects to fire a bombshell into the civil-service camp at Albany to-night.

He has prepared a bill which provides for submitting to the electors a proposition to abolish the civil service laws of the State and will then introduce it.

"I don't see how anybody can object to it," said he, "for either friends or enemies of civil service ought to be willing to sub-mit the matter to popular vote to determine which is right."

Frank Sarosa, aged fifteen, of 9 Jersey street. an Italian bootbiack, fell off the ferry-boat Morristown, of the Fonrteenth Street Ferry, at 10 o'clock this morning, and was drowned. His body was not recovered. PRY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION. ) THE HAGUE, Jan. 14. - The King passed a fair night, and is better this morning.

Murder of Charles Way.

World's" Great Cases.

Ask Mason. He Knows All About It and Will Tell You."

SEPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 14.—Peter Coffey, who was convicted of the murder of Chas. I. Way, through the fine detective work of a New York World reporter, died in Connecticut State Prison at Wethersfield yesterday afternoon. Coffey had been in prison over a year on a life sentence, and during the entire time had been despondent. The crime weighed upon his mind, and on a number of occasions he offered to make a confession, but when the time came he refused. His health had been failing, partly from his constant thought of the crime and through the increasing cough, which works quick consumption. His age was about fifty-On Saturday afternoon he sent for Warden Chamberlain and said he expected to die and up the Stony Creek case. The Warden assured him this was the best thing to do.

The man was weak from constant coughing and spoke with difficulty. He started to tell his story, but almost immediately stopped, as if fearful of the consequences. The Warden told him he was beyond the reach of the law as he could not live many days, and he had better tell all; but Coffey days, and he had better tell all; but Coffey refused to give the confession he promised. He then repeated his old story of Way falling off the train and being run over and killed, and added: "Ask Mason. He knows all about it, and he will tell you."

This was all the Warden could obtain, and this was got with difficulty.

Yesterday he died without any warning that his death was so near.

The story of finding the mangled body of Charles I. Way on the Shore line tracks May 9, 1886, is still fresh in the minds of readers of The World.

When it became apparent that the Connecticut police would not solve the mystery

When it became apparent that the Connecticut police would not solve the mystery
THE WORLD assigned one of its detective reporters to t e work.

He secured an appointment to take the murdered man's place on the Shore Line Railroad, and in a short time established a complete chain of evidence about Coffey. On this evidence Coffey was tried and convicted.

The crime was recently recalled by the death of Way's widow, Genevieve Goddard, in Colorado Springs, she having died of a broken heart. broken heart.
The body of Coffey will be sent to Stony Creek by order of his wife.

NO DAYLIGHT BETWEEN THEM. Yet Panschin Outskated Donoghue by One-

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD. ] AMSTERDAM, Holiand, Jan. 14 .- Over 20,-000 people saw the fourth skating contest between Joseph F. Donoghue, the American, and A. Von Panschin, the Russian, in the open air rink here yesterday.

to Panschin, who came in one-fifth of a second shead of the American.

It was by far the closest and most exciting race ever seen in Holland, the two skaters being remarkably well matched.

There was a scene of great excitement at the finish, and some time elapsed before the crowd knew who had won.

Both Panschin and Donoghue beat the mile record of the course. Panschin's time was 2m. 57s.

The Rice.—Ids Bell made the running for three furlongs, when she quit, and Sweety taking the lead, showed the way to the stretch, where showed signs of distress. Bender then brought Ranhope through and won a good race by a length; Tiburon was two lengths in front of Sweety.

Betting—15 to 1 against Banhope to win, 6 to 1 for a place, and 8 to 5 Tiburon for a place.

Mutuels paid: Straight, $45.80; for place, $16.10. Tiburon paid $7.30.

ALL THE LATEST NEWS

THE CLIFTON RACES

Brynwood Victorious for the Binghamton Handicap.

Banhope's Clever Win Delights Short-Horse Backers.

Hilds, Volatile and Glendale Come in First.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, ] RACE TRACK, CLIFTON, Jan. 14 .- A large crowd attended the races at Clifton to-day. The weather was fine and pleasant. The track, though soft, is better than it has been in two weeks. The racing began with the favorite, Hilds, winning after a good race with Lakewood, who was backed down and started second choice. wanted to leave a confession that would clear

Adolph was favorite for the second race and finished second to Volatile, who was well backed, so that betters saved themselves somewhat. The talent received a great shock in the third race. Banhope, a 15 to 1 chance in the books, winning and paying $45.80 for $2 in the Purse $250, of which $50 to second, for beater porses; selling allowances; six and one-half

The Race.—To a good start Courtier was the first to show, and Bass Viol second, and Walker third. Delong soon took Hilda to the front and staying there, won by a half length from Lakewood, who was a length the best of Mattle Loo-Fam. Betting—3 to 1 against Hilds to win, even money for a place; 2 to 1 Lakewood for a place. Mutuels paid; Straight, $9.80; for place, $4.25. Lakewood paid $7.80.

SECOND BACK.

Purse $250, of which $50 to second, for three-year olds and upward, to carry 10 lb. above the scale; selling allowances; six and a half fur-

scale; sching another the property of the prop

Cluttenburg Entries for To-Morrow. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] GUTTENBURG BACE TRACE. N. J., Jan. 14,-Here is the programme and entries for Gutten-

First Race-Five-eighths of a mile; three-year-olds maiden; $200.—My Nannie O. colt, 115; Melwood, 112 Nkip, 107; Speedwest, 103; Ayala, 103; Ten Rocks, 103; b. Skip, 107; Speedwest, 103; Ayala, 103; Ten Rookh, 103; b.

Second Race. Seven eighths of a mile; beaten horses; 2:00.—Nimrod, 115; Change, 115; Orlande, 115; Harry Brown, 115; Boston, 116; Harvana, 115; Warren Lewis, 115; Commotion, 115; Delane, 115; Warren Lewis, 115; Commotion, 115; Planeroid gelding, 110; Phil Thompson, 110; Firste, 110; b.

Third Race.—Purse $2:00; selling allowances; three-quartiers of a mile.—Wayward, 129; Boston, 117; Bioss, 117; John Shaw, 117; Haistope, 110; Nita, 110; Wilfred Jay, 110; Vengeance, 110; Nita, 110; Wilfred Jay, 110; Vengeance, 110; Nita, 110; Nita, 110; Vengeance, 110; Nita, 110; Nita, 110; Nita, 110; Nontologia, 118; Eostelle, 118; Eolime, 116; Breton, 116; Nankingon, 115; Roundsman, 115; Alee, 113; Englewood, 112; Fifth Race.—One mile: selling allowances; purse

> The New Orleans Races (SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

burg races Tuesday, Jan. 15:

Roundsman, 118; Alice, 119; Englewood, 112; 2012, 100 lb.

Fifth Race.—One mile; selling allowances; 5:50—Bela, 110; Lord Beaconsfield, 108; Armst 108; Count Luna, 107; Tyroue, 107; Jos Mile 101; Dage, 104; Not Gnilty, 102; Tup Baryer, Henry B, 102; Gold Star, 102; Tup Baryer,

NEW ORLEANS RACE TRACE, Jan. 14.-Here New Orkeans Rack Track, Jan. 14.—Here are the entries for Tuesday, Jan. 15.
First Race-Selling allowsness; four furlonga.—Roche, 115; Venns, 112; Radical, 106; Lovelace, 106; Fiseine, 106; Iris, 100; Rollin Hawley, 97; M.
Second Race-Selling allowances; six furlonga.—Kitty Pease, 117; Dahme, 112; Wild Boy, 111; Cheeney, 110; Golighily, 100; Argenta, 96; Victress, 95 th.
Third Race-Selling allowances; five turlonga.—Regardess, 109; Henry Hardy, 104; Mary Foster, 103; Little Bess, 98; Lord Grosvenor, 10; Benton, 80; Vatel, 77 lb.
Fourth Race-Handicap; fifteen-sixteenths of a mile.

tell, 77 lb.
Fourth Race—Handicap; fifteen-sixteenths of a m
Fourth 115; Countees, 108; Probus, 107; Va 106; Carus, Morna, Smpathy's Last and Dading Os
100 each; Event, 151; Winnie Davis, Lida L. and williams, 10 lb. each.

, eather clear, track fast

FULL FIGURE VIEW OF JOS. DONOGHUE.

(From a Photograph.) Panschin has now beaten Donoghue twice in one mile dashes, and once on the half-mile course. Donoghue defeated Panschin easily in the two-mile race, while all of the Ru-sian's victories have been won on narrow The Bootblack Fell Off and Was Drowned.

A STATE OF

~

4

Rev. Mr. Buchanan Loses His Coat. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Rev. W. D. Buchanau, of New York, who is staying at the Adams House, reports that he has had stolen from him a valuable overcoat, containing $28 and a number of checks on the Adams House.